

VOLUNTEER AGREEMENT

Office of Human Resources / Training & Development

Understandably, employees with volunteer commitments may have difficulty meeting their regular work assignments. Volunteer assignments may not begin before approval by the Board of Trustees (BOT) and Associate Vice President, Human Resources.

Volunteer assignments must be outside of the employee's regular work description and work cannot be within the job description of the employee's regular paid assignment.

Volunteer assignments must be outside of the employee's regular work description and work cannot be within the job description of the employee's regular paid assignment.

Volunteer assignments must be outside of the employee's regular work description and work cannot be within the job description of the employee's regular paid assignment.

Volunteer assignments must be outside of the employee's regular work description and work cannot be within the job description of the employee's regular paid assignment.

Volunteer assignments must be outside of the employee's regular work description and work cannot be within the job description of the employee's regular paid assignment.

Volunteer assignments must be outside of the employee's regular work description and work cannot be within the job description of the employee's regular paid assignment.